THE JOURNAL OF THE AMERICAN JUDICATURE SOCIETY

- 152 Letters
On eliminating exemptions from jury duty.
- Gerald Stern 153 Query
Are judicial conduct commissions a threat to judicial independence?
- James A. Carter
and George F. Cole 154 The use of fines in England: could the idea work here?
The British use fines for almost every offense short of murder. Would it be an effective alternative to prison or probation in America?
- G. Edward White 162 Reflections on the role of the Supreme Court: the contemporary debate and the 'lessons' of history
When the Court decides constitutional cases, it is justified in looking beyond the Constitution to the values of American society today.
- Luis Salas
and Ronald Schneider 174 Evaluating the Dade County Citizen Dispute Settlement Program
A new neighborhood mediation center didn't achieve all of its goals. But many clients were satisfied with its results—and would return there again.
- Jon R. Waltz 184 Some firsthand observations on the election of judges
- Stuart Nagel 189 Bringing the attitudes of jurors in line with the law
Some jurors are willing to convict defendants on less of a basis than the law requires. Could better instruction from the judge help them overcome this tendency?
- 198 News
