

The Yale Law Journal

Volume 92
Number 8
July 1983

Symposium
*The Legacy of the New Deal:
Problems and Possibilities in the Administrative State*

Part 2

A Common Law for Labor Relations: A Critique of the New Deal Labor Legislation

Richard A. Epstein

Comments by Paul R. Verkuil,
Julius G. Getman and Thomas C. Kohler

The Bureaucratization of the Judiciary

Owen M. Fiss

Comments by Gilbert S. Merritt and
Patricia M. Wald

Administrative Discretion: The Next Stage

Martin Shapiro

Comment by E. Donald Elliott, Jr.

Regulation in a Liberal State:

The Role of Non-Commodity Values

Richard B. Stewart

Comments by Gerald E. Frug and
Peter H. Schuck

Afterword

Stephen Breyer

The Yale Law Journal

Volume 92, Number 8, July 1983

Contents

Papers from the Yale Law Journal Symposium on
The Legacy of the New Deal:
Problems and Possibilities in the Administrative State
Held at the Yale Law School on February 11-13, 1983
(Part 2)

A Common Law for Labor Relations: A Critique of the New Deal Labor Legislation

Richard A. Epstein 1357

Comments:

Whose Common Law for Labor Relations?

Paul R. Verkuil 1409

The Common Law, Labor Law, and Reality:
A Response to Professor Epstein

Julius G. Getman and 1415
Thomas C. Kohler

Reply:

Common Law, Labor Law, and Reality:
A Rejoinder to Professors Getman and Kohler

Richard A. Epstein 1435

The Bureaucratization of the Judiciary

Owen M. Fiss 1442

Comments:

Owen Fiss on Paradise Lost: The Judicial Bureaucracy
in the Administrative State

Gilbert S. Merritt 1469

Bureaucracy and the Courts

Patricia M. Wald 1478

Administrative Discretion: The Next Stage

Martin Shapiro 1487

Comment:

The Dis-Integration of Administrative Law:
A Comment on Shapiro

E. Donald Elliott, Jr. 1523