

---

East European Constitutional Review

Volume 5, Number 4

Fall 1996

Can the Hague Tribunal Bring Justice to the Balkans?

Belated Bicameralism in the Czech Republic

Hungarian Constitution Making Derailed

Civil Liberties in Weak-Court Societies

East European Constitutional Review

Volume 5, Number 4

Fall 1996

DEPARTMENTS

---

- 2 Constitution Watch
Country-by-country updates on constitutional politics in Eastern Europe and the ex-USSR.
- 93 From the Center
New subscription rates, EECR website, call for papers, and acknowledgment of support.

SPECIAL REPORTS

---

- 31 Andrew Arato analyzes the breakdown of the constitution-making process in Budapest.
- 40 Allison Stanger on why Czechoslovakia split.
- 47 David Olson on the creation of the Czech Senate.
- 51 Veljko Vujacic discovers the origins of Serbian nationalism in communist federalism.
- 62 Dimitrina Petrova on postcommunist obstacles to the effective protection of basic rights.

FEATURE

---

MAKING SENSE OF THE HAGUE TRIBUNAL

- 73 Introduction Lawrence Lessig
- 75 The International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia and International Law David Cohen
- 80 Judgment at The Hague Ruti Teitel
- 85 The War Crimes Tribunal in the Yugoslav Context Vojin Dimitrijevic