

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Symposium on German and Israeli Legal Cultures: The Promises of Critical Comparisons Tel Aviv 1997

Foreword	7
The Grammar of Exclusion: The Legal Construction of the Own and the Other in German Law Günter Frankenberg	9
Constructing and Defending One's Self: Some Thoughts Concerning the Institutional Identity of Constitutional Courts Alexander Blankenagel	23
The Denial of the Holocaust: Employing Criminal Law to Combat Anti-Semitism in Germany Klaus Günther	51
The Impact of German Jewish Jurists on German Law until 1933 and Their Immigration Thereafter to the U.S., Israel, and Other Countries Gunther Kühne	67
The Hidden German Sources of the Israeli Supreme Court Fania Oz-Salzberger & Eli Salzberger	79
 Other Articles
Choice of Law and the Doctrine of Renvoi in Israeli Law — A Comparative Commentary Menashe Shava	123
Protection of Obligatory Rights as "Property" Within the Framework of the "Constitutional Revolution" in Israel Miguel Deutch	147
Shifting the Balance Between the Rights of Victims and the Rights of Defendants in Criminal Proceedings: A Comparative Study of Israeli and American Law Emmanuel Gross	199
Purveyors of Injustice: Bourquin on Ethics and the Legal System Arnon Gutfeld	237
Index	257
Table of Principal Cases	260
Table of Principal Statutes	261

TEL AVIV UNIVERSITY
STUDIES IN LAW