

JOURNAL

JUNE 2001 VOL 48 NO 2

Special Issue

Youth Justice and Young Offenders

Linking Research and Practice

Drugs Interventions

Young Women's Offending

Youth Justice In Context

Anti-Sectarian Practice

Youth Justice Under New Labour

Girls and Violence

Youth Justice Board

Referral Orders

PROBATION Journal

VOLUME 48 No 2 JUNE 2001

- Editorial 75 Responding to the New Youth Justice
- A Rational Youth Justice? 76 Barry Goldson argues that evidence-Some Critical Reflections On led approaches are being subsumed to The Research, Policy And political imperative in the formation of Practice Relation youth justice policy
- Girls At Risk? Reflections 86 Anne Worrall discusses the shift On Changing Attitudes To from a welfare-orientated approach to Young Women's Offending young women offenders towards a greater criminalisation of their behaviour
- Will Youth Justice Work? 93 Chris Stanley assesses the current reforms in the light of past experience
- 'Fair Play' In Northern 102 Trevor Lindsay and Kerry Quinn Ireland: Towards Anti- describe an innovative programme Sectarian Practice designed to increase dialogue and reduce the risk of violence between young Catholic and Protestant offenders
- Drugs Interventions In The 110 Howard Parker discusses the drugs-Youth Justice System crime link and the interplay between drugs services and the evolving youth justice system
- Tough Enough? Youth 119 Mark Drakeford and Ian Butler Justice Under New Labour critically evaluate the government's approach to young offenders
- Discussing Violence: Let's 125 Susan Batchelor, Michele Burman and Hear It From The Girls Jane Brown present their research into the nature and extent of violence in girls' lives
-

PROBATION Journal

VOLUME 48 No 2 JUNE 2001

- Reflections: Youth Justice – A Board Perspective 135 Cedric Fullwood highlights the opportunities represented by the current reforms for a coherent and progressive approach to youth offending
- Practice Note: Implementing Referral Orders: Some Key Issues 139 Elizabeth Peters and Jennifer Walker discuss the implications of this new disposal for YOT workers and community representatives
- Research & Reports 143 Youth Court, Child Maltreatment, Discretionary Lifer Panels, Managing Disruptive Prisoners, Judiciary in Magistrates Courts, What Works Conference, Pimps and Sex Work, Women Prisoners, British Prisoners Abroad, Electronic Monitoring
- Reviews 154 Culture of Control, Young Offenders' Programme, Sexual Abuse Assessments, Substance Misuse and Children, Domestic Violence, Sex Crime, Youth and Crime, Teambuilding
- In Court 163 Automatic Life Sentences, Racial Hostility, Prisoners' Category, Schedule One Spent Convictions, Opposition to Contact, Internet and Child Pornography, USI and Custody Threshold, Probation for Child Abuse, Removing Children from UK
- Resources 168 Adolescence Conference, Useful Websites Directory, Hearing Voices Guide, Children and Violence Conference, Volunteers in Community Justice, Child Offenders Conference
-