

Contents

Education and Health: A Role for Private Actors in Meeting Human Rights Obligations?	Steven J. Malby	1
Anthropology and the Democratisation of Human Rights	Michael Freeman	37
The Unpredictability of Liberal States: Australia and International Human Rights	Ann Kent	55
The Silver Anniversary of the UN Human Rights Committee: Is There Anything to Celebrate?	Murat Metin Hakki	85
Righting the Wrongs of Past Interventions: A Review of the International Commission on Intervention and State Sovereignty	Ian Williams	103
REVIEW ARTICLE
China and International Human Rights Norms: Making Sense of Different Approaches	Taku Tamaki	114

For details of past and future contents of this and our other journals please visit our website at www.frankcass.com/jnls

The International Journal of

Human Rights

Volume 6 Number 3 Autumn 2002

Steven J. Malby

Education and Health:
A Role for Private Actors in Meeting Human Rights Obligations?

Michael Freeman

Anthropology and the Democratisation of Human Rights

Ann Kent

The Unpredictability of Liberal States:
Australia and International Human Rights

Murat Metin Hakki

The UN Human Rights Committee
Silver Anniversary: Is There Anything to Celebrate?

Ian Williams

Righting the Wrongs of Past Interventions:
A Review of the International Commission on Intervention and State Sovereignty

Taku Tamaki

Review Article
China and International Human Rights Norms:
Making Sense of Different Approaches