

REVIEWS

ACADEMY

49 Continental Divide

Americans see privacy as a protection of liberty, Europeans as a protection of dignity. Are both destined to perish?

BY JEFFREY ROSEN

PRACTICE

54 Newtonians and Charlatans

Do scientific witnesses spout quackery?

BY DANIEL J. KEVLES

PRACTICE

58 The Other Detainees

Lost in the protests about the detentions at Guantánamo Bay are 20,000 immigrants behind bars in the United States.

BY SERENA HOY

ACADEMY

61 Elsewhere

Trial courts get horizontal, lawyers get religion, and other trends from the nation's law reviews.

The Other Detainees page 58

Moving Mountains page 71

STORIES

63 Killing Their Young

The murder of a newborn by her mother is one of the most difficult crimes to fathom—and one of the hardest to prosecute successfully.

BY DASHKA SLATER

68 Empty Suits

The decline of the once mighty Association of Trial Lawyers of America.

BY ALICIA MUNDY

71 Moving Mountains

Frank Duval has wanted to extract the silver lining from Montana's Cabinet Mountains for 40 years.

BY GEOFFREY GAGNON

EXHIBIT

76 Warrior Goddess

Be Careful What You Vote For page 24

1 The Great Divider
LINCOLN CAPLAN

5 LETTERS

SCENES

6 Making The Partner
JUSTIN DILLON

It's The Apprentice, but with lawyers.

8 Above It All

AMY SULLIVAN

An Alabama congressman wants to give God an exemption from judicial review.

10 Peter Ambrose, Bladder Cop

BEN GOLDSTEIN

Testing athletes' urine is his business.

11 The Beagle Brigade

WILL POTTER

A law that tells animal rights activists to heel.

THE PRUDENT JURIST

13 WILLIAM H. SIMON

A judge helps a defendant make a getaway.

TERMS OF ART

14 Salmon and the Caesar

MARK DOWIE

Will a doctrine from the Roman Empire sink ocean aquaculture?

ARGUMENT

18 Stealing the Show

EMILY BAZELON

The trial of Marwan Barghout was supposed to prove that he is a terrorist. Instead, Israel may have created the Palestinian Mandela.

21 When to Hold 'Em

THOMAS F. POWERS

The U.S. should detain suspected terrorists—even if it can't make a case against them in court.

24 Be Careful What You Vote For

Your vote for president in November could be for four new Supreme Court justices. A forum on Election 2004 with Stephen B. Presser, David Strauss, and Mark Tushnet.

PLUS: SUPREME STATS

What if Supreme Court justices were picked based on their career numbers instead of their politics?

34 The Passion of Father Paul Shanley

By JoAnn Wypijewski

Paul Shanley became the most demonized among the church's fallen fathers. But whatever his sins, they have nothing to do with the evidence to be presented against him in court.

42 Litigation By Loan Shark

By Daniel Brook

Litigation finance companies loan money to plaintiffs too poor to press their cases against well-funded insurance companies. Is this industry leveling the playing field or exploiting the system?

cover art by JOHN HENDRIX

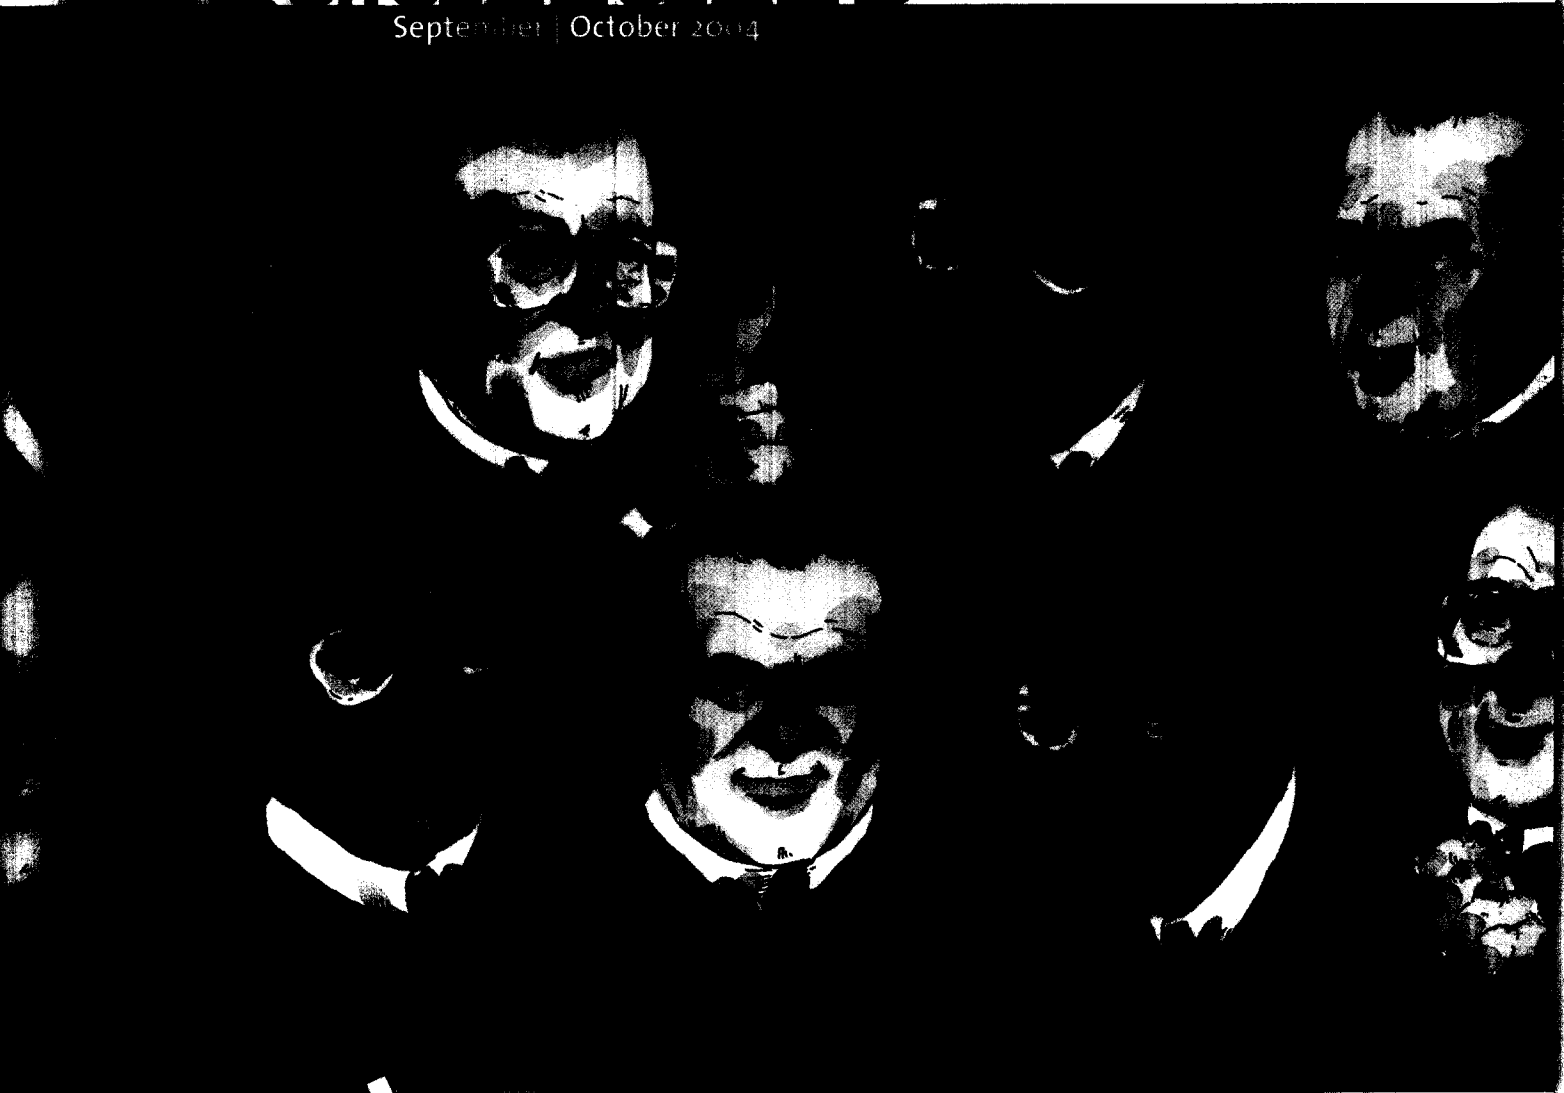

JEFFREY ROSEN
A Continental Divide Over Privacy

DANIEL J. KEVLES
Science on the Stand

JOANN WYPIJEWSKI
The Passion of Father Paul Shanley

legalaffairs

September | October 2004

Is This the Court's Future?

Yes, please. Vote Bush. By Stephen B. Presser
Heaven forbid. Vote Kerry. By David Strauss
Never happen. Just vote. By Mark Tushnet

US $8.95 | CAN $9.95
www.legalaaffairs.org