

legalaffairs

REVIEWS

CULTURE

55 The Moral of the Story

Thane Rosenbaum argues that the law should rededicate itself to the pursuit of moral justice.

BY PATRICK KEEFE

PRACTICE

60 Spot On?

Lawyers are spending more money than ever to advertise on TV. Are they getting their money's worth?

BY ADAM HANFT

ACADEMY

63 Elsewhere

The LSAT's need for speed, the problem of false confessions, and other ideas from the nation's law reviews.

The Moral of the Story page 55

Blitzkrieg page 69

STORIES

65 Crème de la Crème

How a few dozen immigrant students at an elite French college created a crise constitutionnelle.

BY SASHA POLAKOW-SURANSKY

69 Blitzkrieg

The Department of Justice is still storming the country looking for geriatric ex-Nazis.

BY MARGOT SANGER-KATZ

EXHIBIT

72 Tuba Fats

1 War's Conventions
LINCOLN CAPLAN

5 LETTERS

SCENES

6 Crash Course
JASCHA HOFFMAN
The science of reconstructing car accidents.

8 Rundown Jury
NOEL C. PAUL
Twelve not-so-angry Russians.

10 On Your Marks. Set. Go Home!
DANA MULHAUSER
Kenyan runners on Qatar's Olympic team.

12 World's Richest Bailiff
BRENDAN I. KOERNER
The silent star of Judge Judy's courtroom.

THE PRUDENT JURIST

WILLIAM H. SIMON
Can a lawyer hire a former jury member as an adviser after a mistrial?

TERMS OF ART

15 Playing Police
KATHERINE MARSH
Every state in the union recognizes the right of citizens to make arrests. If only we recognized the proper situation in which to exercise it.

ARGUMENT

20 Sell Outs
DOUG PAPPAS
Major League Baseball should tell its teams to stop scalping their own tickets.

23 $topp^ng $p@m!!
PAUL JAMIESON
The private sector needs to regulate spam because the government can't.

Want to Make Your Kid Disappear? page 26

26 Want Your Kid to Disappear?
By Nadya Labi

For $1,800, former Atlanta police officer Rick Strawn will make that problem child someone else's problem. He even makes house calls.

38 Should American Courts Cite Foreign Laws?

Richard Posner argues that the Supreme Court should not treat any foreign or international court ruling as a precedent.

Vicki Jackson argues that the court has been informed by international and foreign law in the past. It should do so in the future.

48 A Fork in the River
By Bruce Barcott

Colorado can pour its scarce water into river courses that are good for fish and paddlers or slake the thirst of its growing cities. It can't do both.

cover art by ALAN BAKER

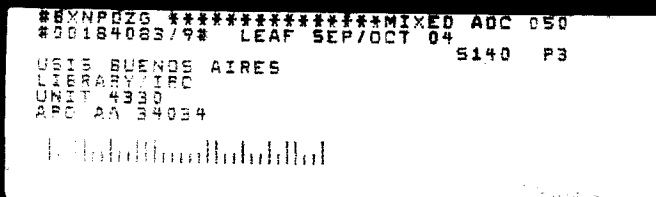

PATRICK KEEFE
The Tyranny of the Touchy-Feely

DANA MULHAUSER
Kenyan Runners in Qatar

ADAM HANFT
How Lawyers Get Their Spots

legalaffairs

July | August 2004

Want Your Kid to Disappear?

For $1,800, former Atlanta police officer Rick Strawn will make that problem child someone else's problem. He even makes house calls. By Nadya Labi

US $9.95 | CAN $9.95
www.legalaffairs.org