

The University of Chicago Law Review

ARTICLES

- United States, or the State as Failure? Rosa Ehrenreich Brooks
- Matching Probabilities:
The Behavioral Law and
Economics of Repeated Behavior
Ehud Guttel & Alon Harel
- A Freedom-Promoting Approach to Property:
A Renewed Tradition for New Debates
Jedediah Purdy

COMMENTS

- Not Proven: Introducing a Third Verdict
- Some Kind of Process for Felon Reenfranchisement
- Employee Stock Options in Personal Bankruptcy: Assets or Earnings?
- ERISA Enforcement of the HIPAA Privacy Rules
- The Bank Fraud Act: A Risk of Loss Requirement?
- A Constitutional Analysis of Grandparents' Custody Rights
- Common Law versus Regulatory Fraud: Parsing the Intent Requirement of the Felony Penalty Provision of the Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act
- Protecting State Interests: Recognition of the State Government
Attorney-Client Privilege

The University of Chicago Law Review

Volume 72

Fall 2005

Number 4

© 2005 by The University of Chicago

ARTICLES

Failed States, or the State as Failure?Rosa Ehrenreich Brooks 1159

Matching Probabilities:

The Behavioral Law and Economics

of Repeated Behavior Ehud Guttel & Alon Harel 1197

A Freedom-Promoting Approach to Property:

A Renewed Tradition for New Debates*Jedediah Purdy* 1237

COMMENTS

Not Proven: Introducing a Third Verdict*Samuel Bray* 1299

Some Kind of Process for Felon

Reenfranchisement Melissa C. Chiang 1331

Employee Stock Options in

Personal Bankruptcy: Assets or Earnings? Ryan J. Foreman 1367

ERISA Enforcement of the HIPAA

Privacy Rules*Jamie Lund* 1413

The Bank Fraud Act:

A Risk of Loss Requirement?Mehul Madia 1445

A Constitutional Analysis of

Grandparents' Custody Rights*Michelle Ognibene* 1473

Common Law versus Regulatory Fraud:

Parsing the Intent Requirement of the Felony Penalty Provision of the Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act Brian Rubens 1501

Protecting State Interests:

Recognition of the State Government

Attorney-Client Privilege*Joel D. Whitley* 1533