

EUROPEAN LAW REVIEW

Volume 31 No. 4 August 2006

Editorial: The European Condition, European Dreams and Constitutional Nightmares

Accountability and law enforcement: the centralised EC infringement procedure

Carol Harlow and Richard Rawlings

Effectiveness in the European legal order(s): beyond supremacy to constitutional proportionality?

Malcolm Ross

The supremacy of Community law before the French Constitutional Court

Claudina Richards

The wood began to move: an essay on consumer welfare, evidence and burden of proof in Article 82 EC cases

Renato Nazzari

Challenges facing the EC Network of Competition Authorities: insights from a comparative criminal law perspective

Benjamin Perrin

Analysis and Reflections

THOMSON

SWEET & MAXWELL

European Law Review

August 2006

Editorial

The European Condition, European Dreams and Constitutional Nightmares 445

Articles

Accountability and law enforcement: the centralised EU infringement procedure
Carol Harlow and Richard Rawlings 447

Effectiveness in the European legal order(s): beyond supremacy to constitutional proportionality?
Malcolm Ross 476

The supremacy of Community law before the French Constitutional Court
Claudina Richards 499

The wood began to move: an essay on consumer welfare, evidence and burden of proof in Article 82 EC cases
Renato Nazzini 518

Challenges facing the EU Network of Competition Authorities: insights from a comparative criminal law perspective
Benjamin Perrin 540

Analysis and Reflections

The development of ne bis in idem into a transnational fundamental right in EU law: comments on recent developments
Martin Wasmeier and Nadine Thwaites 565

Eligibility criteria for protected geographical food names
Caoimhín MacMaoldáin 579

Book Reviews

592