

European Human Rights Law Review

Editor: Nathan Cooper

Issue 5 2010

OPINION

A Bill of Rights for the UK? Why the process matters

Alice Donald

ARTICLES

On the Fairness of Proceedings for Extradition or Surrender

Gjermund Mathisen

European Convention on Human Rights and Social Welfare

Jo Kenny

Human Rights Accountability in the UK: Deliberative Democracy and the Role of the Ombudsman

Nick O'Brien and Brian Thompson

CASE ANALYSIS

Gäfgen v Germany: Fruit of the poisonous tree

Martha Spurrier

European Human Rights Law Review

Issue 5 2010

Table of Contents

Opinion

A Bill of Rights for the UK? Why the process matters
Alice Donald 459

Bulletin 465

Bulletin: Counter-Terrorism and Human Rights 470

Articles

On the Fairness of Proceedings for Extradition or Surrender
Gjermund Mathisen 486

European Convention on Human Rights and Social Welfare
Jo Kenny 495

Human Rights Accountability in the UK: Deliberative Democracy and the Role of the Ombudsman
Nick O'Brien and Brian Thompson 504

Case Analysis

Gäfgen v Germany: Fruit of the poisonous tree
Martha Spurrier 513

Case and Comment

Watts v UK (Application No.53856/09) 520

Kononov v Latvia (Application No.36376/04) 523

Kennedy v United Kingdom (Application No.26839/05) 526

Gäfgen v Germany (Application No.22978/05) 531

Kemevuako v The Netherlands (Application No.65938/09) 535

Ionescu v Romania (Application No.36659/04) 537

Schalk and Kopf v Austria (Application No.30141/04) 539

Dimitras v Greece (Application Nos 42837/06, 3269/07, 35793/07 and 6099/08) 542

Grzelak v Poland (Application No.7710/02)

545

Book Reviews

549