

Revue internationale de CRIMINOLOGIE

et de

POLICE

technique et scientifique

Organe officiel
de l'association internationale des criminologues
de langue française (AICLF)

VOLUME LXIII

N° 4 2010

OCTOBRE-DECEMBRE

Deterrence and the decline in traffic casualties by Étienne Blais	388
Road safety and police interventions: effective programs and their characteristics by Étienne Blais and Maurice Cusson	394
Automated Speed Enforcement in France: Contributions and Debates about the Deterrence Theory by Laurent Carnis	406
Deterrence, road safety and causal inference: A decrease in the number of traffic citations issued by police officers and its impact on collisions by Marie-Ève Gagné and Étienne Blais	419
Profile of driving-while-impaired (DWI) repeat offenders and effectiveness of commonly-used sanctions and intervention policies by Jacques Bergeron	435
Toward a multidimensional model of driving while impaired offenders: A neurobiological pathway by Sophie Couture, Thomas G. Brown and Serge Brochu	445
Egalitarian or discriminatory? Perspectives on the exercise of religious freedom in Swiss prisons. by Mallory Schneuwly Purdie and Joëlle Vuille	469
Being a victim of incest: from exile to identity recognition by Emmanuel Escard, Annerachèl van der Horst and Cécile Miele . . .	491
Notes in forensic sciences by Olivier Delémont and Pierre Margot	501
Bibliography by Marie-Claude Hertig	508
Table of contents of volume LXIII (2010)	509