

The International Journal of

Human Rights

Volume 18 Numbers 4–5 May–June 2014

ISSN 1364-2987

Routledge

Taylor & Francis Group

The International Journal of Human Rights

VOLUME 18      NUMBERS 4–5      MAY–JUNE 2014

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| The nature and scope of states' obligation to adopt a national human rights action planAzadeh Chalabi  | 391 |
| Foreign aid and human rights treaty ratification: moving beyond the rewards thesisDouglas Hamilton Spence  | 414 |
| Childhood and modernity: a social constructionist reflection onto the dilemma of 'child execution' within the Islamic contextMasoud Rajabi-Ardeshiri             | 433 |
| The International Criminal Court and the politics of prosecutionsAlana Tiemessen   | 444 |
| Explaining campaign timing and support for a UN Convention on the Rights of Older PeopleJennifer Dabbs Sciubba   | 462 |
| Starving for freedom: an exploration of Australian government policies, human rights obligations and righting the wrong for those seeking asylumTristan G. Creek | 479 |
| Child sexual abuse: can the doctrines of al-maqasid al-shariah and maslahah assist in challenging the honour ideology?Mariya Ali                   | 508 |
| An international legal demarche for human rights? Perils and prospects of the Palestinian UN bidValentina Azarov   | 527 |
| A golden opportunity lost: Canada's human rights impact assessment and the free trade agreement with ColombiaJames Rochlin                                       | 545 |
| Civil society organisations in India and construction of multiplicity of human rightsSimin Fadaee  | 567 |
| Erratum   | 578 |