

European Human Rights Law Review

Editor: Jonathan Cooper

Issue 4 2015

OPINION

The Investigatory Powers Review: A Question of Trust

David Anderson QC

ARTICLES

Not Fit For Purpose? Human Rights in Times of Financial and Economic Crisis

Aoife Nolan

The Conservatives' Proposals for a British Bill of Rights: Mired in Muddle, Misconception and Misrepresentation

Steven Greer and Rosie Slowe

Evolution of French Constitutional Law and European Human Rights Law Related to the non bis in idem Principle

Antoine F. Kirry and Amanda Lee Wetzel

States' Compliance with the Obligation to Adopt a National Human Rights Action Plan

Azadeh Chalabi

CASE ANALYSIS

Obergefell v Hodges

Callie E. Wells

SWEET & MAXWELL

European Human Rights Law Review

Issue 4 2015

Table of Contents

Opinion

- The Investigatory Powers Review: A Question of Trust
David Anderson QC 329

- Bulletin 338

- Bulletin: Counter-Terrorism and Human Rights 342

Articles

- Not Fit For Purpose? Human Rights in Times of Financial and Economic Crisis
Aoife Nolan 358

- The Conservatives' Proposals for a British Bill of Rights: Mired in Muddle, Misconception and Misrepresentation?
Steven Greer and Rosie Slowe 370

- Evolution of French Constitutional Law and European Human Rights Law Related to the non bis in idem Principle
Antoine F. Kirry and Amanda Lee Wetzel 382

- States' Compliance with the Obligation to Adopt a National Human Rights Action Plan
Azadeh Chalabi 395

Case Analysis

- Obergefell v Hodges
Callie E. Wells 404

Case and Comment

- Maguire v United Kingdom 411

- Varga v Hungary 414

- YY v Turkey 417

- Momčilovič v Croatia 421

- Cestaro v Italy 424

AT v Luxembourg	429
SS and FA v United Kingdom	432
François v France	435
Book Review	438