

Revue internationale de

CRIMINOLOGIE

et de

POLICE

technique et scientifique

Organe officiel
de l'association internationale des criminologues
de langue française (AICLF)

VOLUME LXXII

N° 1 2019

JANVIER-MARS

Pre-trial detention in Europe: what credibility for alternatives? by Alexia Jonckheere and Eric Maes	6
Juvenile delinquent behaviours? Depression and well-being: between risks and needs by Annabelle Kinard and Fabienne Glowacz	14
Monitoring illicit drug consumption: difference between criminology and forensic science approach. The added value of the analysis of the contents of used syringes. by Etodie Lefrançois, Marc Augsburgers and Pierre Esseiva	23
Recidivism of detainees with alcohol and/or drug problems after their release from Belgian prisons by Benjamin Mine and Éric Maes	32
The victimization in cyberspace by Adrian Cristian Moise	41
Becoming-jihadist of Westerners in the Internet age: events, affects and senses by Maria Mourani	48
Serious physical and sexual violence experienced by women in intimate relationship contexts by Frédéric Ouellet, Emeline Hetroy and Chloé Leclerc	54
Youth offenders: What looks on their path of desistance? by Rosa Puglia and Fabienne Glowacz	63
Formation focusing on responsibility among offending people regarding their acting-out and on awareness of victims' experience: what do people who benefited from this measure think? by Rosa Puglia, Jeremy Kaye, Isabelle Regniers, Danièle Lécurveuil and Fabienne Glowacz	70
The evolution of juvenile delinquency recorded in Belgium: far from prejudices and close to the international context by Isabelle Ravier	75
Public-private partnerships for the management of new prisons: a divergence of interests at the service of the humanization of the institution? by Yves Sevenants	85
Gender difference and Intimate Partner Violence. In a counterpoint to the feminist paradigm, an analysis of criminalization of women by Charlotte Vanneste	93
Violent Radicalization - Logics of prevention in Belgium and Germany. A focus on education by Anton Vereshchagin and Fabienne Glowacz	101
How the end of the criminal careers is conditioned by past experiences: criminal achievement and desistance process by Sabrina Vidal and Frédéric Ouellet	109
Thinking and practicing Criminology in contemporary society in Côte d'ivoire by Kouakou Daniel Yao	118