

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY LAW REVIEW

Judicial Independence: Threats from Without and Within
The Honorable Nathan L. Hecht

Engineered Credit Default Swaps: Innovative or Manipulative?
Gina-Gail S. Fletcher

Beyond #MeToo
Deborah Tuerkheimer

The Value of a New Judgments Convention for U.S. Litigants
Sarah E. Coco

A Single Score No More: Rethinking the Admissions System for
New York City's Specialized High Schools to Preserve
Academic Excellence and Promote Student Diversity
Priscilla A. Consolo

The Case for Do-Over Derivative Shareholder Suits in Delaware Chancery Court
Alice Hong

Defining "Local" in a Localized Criminal Justice System
Elizabeth G. Jánosky

As-Applied Suspension Clause Challenges to the Immigration and Nationality Act's Jurisdictional Bars: A Pathway into District Court for Deportation Habeas Petitions
Sarah Taitz

Volume 94

Number 5

November 2019

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY LAW REVIEW

VOLUME 94

NOVEMBER 2019

NUMBER 5

CONTENTS

BRENNAN LECTURE

JUDICIAL INDEPENDENCE: THREATS FROM WITHOUT AND WITHIN

The Honorable Nathan L. Hecht 1057

ARTICLES

ENGINEERED CREDIT DEFAULT SWAPS:
INNOVATIVE OR MANIPULATIVE?

Gina-Gail S. Fletcher 1073

BEYOND #MeToo

Deborah Tuerkheimer 1146

NOTES

THE VALUE OF A NEW JUDGMENTS
CONVENTION FOR U.S. LITIGANTS

Sarah E. Coco 1209

A SINGLE SCORE NO MORE: RETHINKING THE ADMISSIONS SYSTEM FOR NEW YORK CITY'S SPECIALIZED HIGH SCHOOLS TO PRESERVE
ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE AND PROMOTE STUDENT DIVERSITY

Priscilla A. Consolo 1244

THE CASE FOR DO-OVER DERIVATIVE
SHAREHOLDER SUITS IN DELAWARE
CHANCERY COURT

Alice Hong 1284

DEFINING "LOCAL" IN A LOCALIZED CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM

Elizabeth G. Jánszky 1318